

Being COVID-19 ready

Guidance for Places of Worship in the Greater
Wellington Region

V4 | 19 April 2022

In the event of COVID-19 symptoms get a test locally:
www.healthpoint.co.nz/covid-19/

The Omicron variant of COVID-19 can make people very sick, even if they are fully vaccinated. Please look after your community, especially those who are older or others who could get very sick. This can include people aged 60-plus, pregnant women and those who have a health condition like diabetes or cancer.

This resource is a guide designed to help you:

- Hold COVID-19 safe gatherings
- What to do if someone with COVID-19 visits your place of worship
- Protect yourself and your community against COVID-19
- What to do if someone in your community is unwell

Think about whether you can gather in other ways

Before planning or holding a service or gathering consider alternative options.

Face-to-face services or gatherings increase the risk of people passing on the virus, especially to those who may get seriously unwell.

While Omicron is spreading in the community, consider temporarily pausing or delaying your gathering, or using other ways to worship and connect instead, such as going on-line (e.g. via Zoom, Facebook or Microsoft Teams if you have it).

If you decide to go ahead, use this COVID-Safe checklist

Action to take	✓
Remind people to stay home if they are unwell They should get a test and stay home until it comes back negative and they feel better. If they test positive, they will need to isolate at home for 7 days, and so will the people they live with. Note: if the people they live with have already had COVID-19 less than 3 months ago, they do not need to isolate.
Physical spacing While there are no capacity limits, having distance between people helps to prevent the virus spreading if it's present. Make sure there are plenty of chairs and space them well apart to allow groups to spread out.
Ventilate indoor spaces Keep windows and doors open, and use air filtration systems.
Wearing masks Masks are not required for attendees, but are optional and worthwhile. Workers, including volunteers, at indoor gatherings at Orange must wear medical grade face masks. Performers and formal speakers, such as a person leading a service are excluded, provided they are 2 metres from the audience or other attendees. Face mask rules do not apply to gatherings in private dwellings, for example, bible study in a private home.
Make 'on-line' an option Even if you are gathering in-person, consider providing an on-line option too - for those in your community who could get really sick if they got COVID-19. Offer an on-line option for any personal, one-on-one prayers or faith-based support.
Serve food and drink in a safe way Food and drink can be served as normal. To reduce risk you could offer takeaway or pre-packed lunches. People serving food must wear masks. Make sure there is enough cutlery and cups for everyone so no one has to share.

Avoid high risk activities like hugging and shaking hands Congregants can signal the sign of peace by shaking hands or embracing. If they wish to avoid physical contact they can make an alternate form of acknowledgment.
Remind people who attend your gathering that it's important for them to let you know if they later test positive for COVID-19 If someone unknowingly attends your gathering while infectious, then later tests positive for COVID-19, it's important that they know to tell you. That way you can let others from the gathering know (remember to keep the individual names of positive cases confidential) – and help to reduce the virus spreading. See Step 4 in the next section. It's important that they tell the person leading the service, or the person in charge of the venue (e.g. the pastor, minister, priest, bishop). They should not share the information via social media.
Make sure bathrooms are well stocked with soap and paper towel, and/or have hand sanitiser readily available Encourage people to wash their hands with soap and water for 20 seconds, then dry well every time: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • After going to the toilet or changing nappies • Before preparing food, eating or drinking Hand sanitiser is a good option if soap and water aren't available. Keeping your hands clean helps to keep everyone well.
Have options available for contactless donation Encourage devotees to make contactless donations and minimise cash donation boxes and/or passed collection plates at your place of worship.
Clean and sanitise shared surfaces thoroughly before and after use Find cleaning advice here: https://www.health.govt.nz/covid-19-novel-coronavirus/covid-19-health-advice-public/covid-19-general-cleaning-and-disinfection-advice

What to do if someone with COVID visits your place of worship

If someone with COVID-19 attends your service or gathering, take action to reduce the chance of others getting sick too:

- If someone from your gathering tells you they have tested positive for COVID-19, you should tell the other people who were there at the same time. Use the template on the next page to do this.
- You can use channels such as social media to communicate with your devotees and congregants, but you must not share the name or any personal information of the person who has COVID-19. This is private and confidential health information.
- Don't wait for a health professional to reach out before you start taking action – the sooner you start telling others the better.

If you need public health advice or support because you have:

- A COVID-19 outbreak in your community of faith that is spreading quickly (i.e. lots of people are becoming sick with COVID).
- You have a large number of people who have been exposed to COVID at your place of worship and who could be seriously affected by the virus (for example, they have other health conditions, are pregnant, or are age 60-plus).

We've learned that someone with COVID-19 attended Click or tap to enter name of gathering / event and there is a risk they may have passed the virus on to others. The person was present at the following time(s):

- Click or tap to enter day, date & time. Insert multiple dates/times if necessary.

What to do if you were there at this time – if you do NOT live with the person with COVID-19:

- If you do not have COVID symptoms, you do not need to get a test or self-isolate. However, please avoid contact with vulnerable groups or individuals for 7 days from the date above, and watch out for symptoms.
- If you have COVID symptoms, please isolate at home and get tested immediately (see below for how to do this). If you still have symptoms after a negative test, stay at home and carry out another test the following day. If your symptoms get worse, contact your local healthcare provider or call Healthline on 0800 358 5453.
- If you have symptoms and you need to miss work, financial support may be available. You can show your employer this letter if necessary. See covid19.govt.nz.
- If you test positive, there is further advice available on the Unite against COVID-19 website: covid19.govt.nz.

What to do if you live with someone who has tested positive for COVID-19

More information is available from: covid19.govt.nz.

You can also call Healthline for free on 0800 358 5453. This is a free, 24/7 service with interpreters available. Tell them you are a 'household contact'.

What to do if you are a household contact and a critical worker

If you are a household contact and a critical worker you may be able to return to work early. More information is available from: <https://covid19.govt.nz/testing-and-tracing/contact-tracing/critical-workers/>

Testing

Testing is free. You can find your nearest testing centre here: www.healthpoint.co.nz/covid-19, or free-phone Healthline: 0800 358 5453.

You can also order Rapid Antigen Tests (RATs) and use these yourself at home. RATs are the main type of test now being used, with results only taking about 20 minutes. You can order RATs on-line or over the phone.

Help others to get vaccinated

The best way to protect yourself, your family, your friends and your community from the Omicron variant of COVID-19 is to get:

- ✓ Two doses of the COVID-19 vaccine, AND
- ✓ A booster

If it's been more than 3 months since your 2nd dose you should get a booster shot to provide the best protection against Omicron. Vaccines are free and are available to anyone in Aotearoa aged 5 years and over:

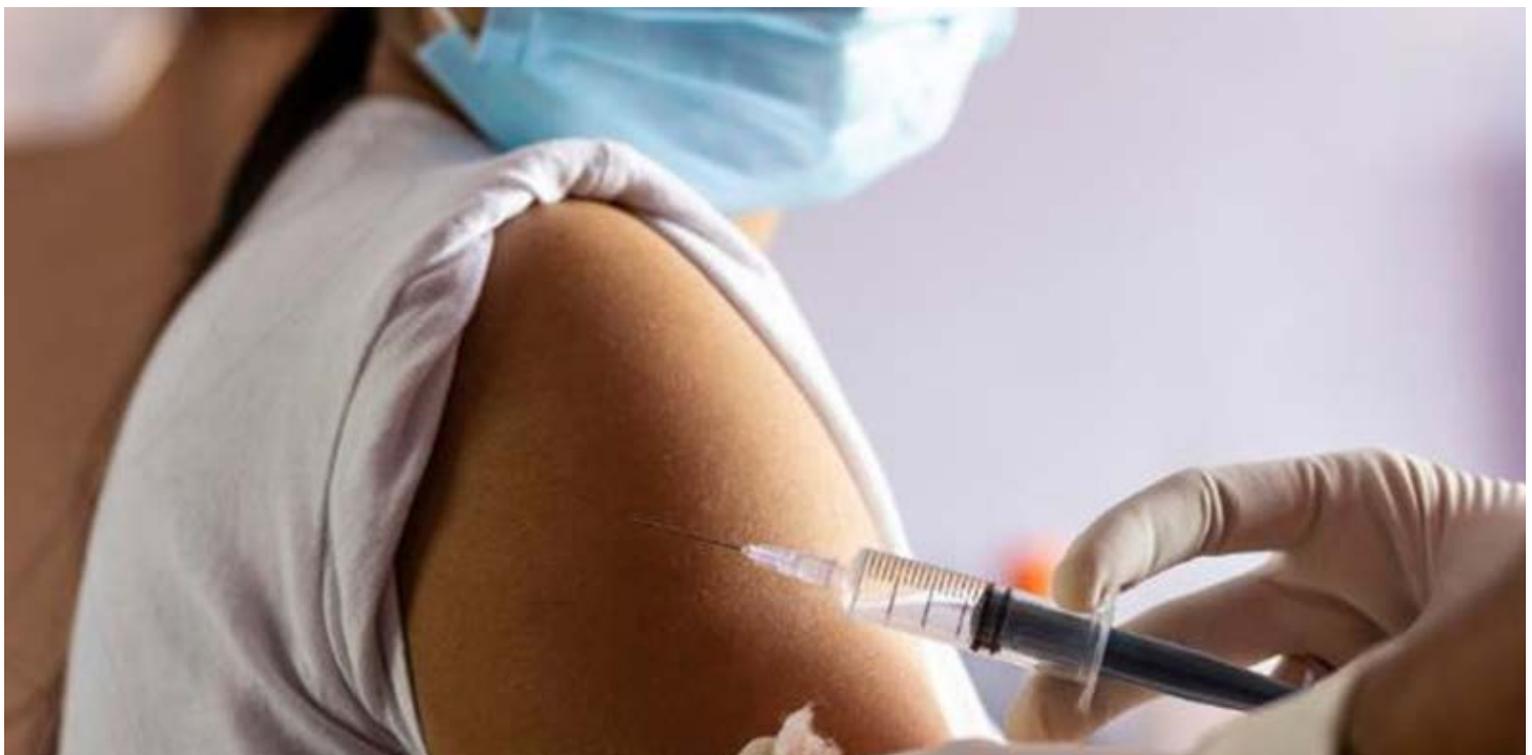

Visit: <https://bookmyvaccine.covid19.health.nz/>

Call: 0800 28 29 26

Have you had COVID-19?

You should still get vaccinated: it's the best tool to protect you from catching it again.

It's recommended that you wait 3 months after you test positive for COVID-19 before getting your next dose. This recommendation is for all ages and applies to all COVID-19 vaccines available in New Zealand.

What to do if someone in your community has COVID-19 symptoms

If a family member, friend, or someone else you know feels unwell and has one or more symptoms of COVID-19, it's important that they get a COVID-19 test and stay at home:

- ✓ Until it comes back negative, AND
- ✓ Until they have felt well and free of symptoms for 24 hours

If they test positive, they will need to isolate at home for 7 days and so will anyone they live with.

You can find your nearest testing centre here: www.healthpoint.co.nz/covid-19, or free-phone Healthline: 0800 358 5453.

You can also order free Rapid Antigen Tests (RATs) and use these yourself at home. RATs are the main type of test now being used, with results only taking about 20 minutes. You can order RATs on-line or over the phone.

- Online: requestrats.covid19.health.nz
- Over the phone: 0800 222 478, choose option 3 (8am-8pm, 7 days a week)

You can get a free test if:

- You have symptoms
- Are a Household Contact
- Are a Critical Worker and need a test to go to work
- Are part of the healthcare and emergency service workforce
- Require a test for domestic travel or to attend court
- Do a job where mandatory testing applies
